At Telerik, we believe that success comes with mastery - the more familiar you become with Test Studio, the more you will benefit from its many features. That's why, in addition to our ever-growing on demand video library, detailed user-guide, and stellar customer service, we decided to launch paid trainings to better suite your team's needs.

All sessions include core Test Studio training combined with proven techniques for long-term success such as Test Organization, Practical Automation, Transitioning from Manual to Automated Testing and the makings of a good test case.
